

THE MOURNING BELLS

One of Victorian London's most respected undertakers, Violet Harper has the new duty of accompanying coffins from various undertakers on the London Necropolis Railway for respectful funerals and burials in Surrey. But on her fateful first trip, the mournful silence of the train is shattered by the shrill ringing of a coffin bell—a device that prevents a person from being buried...

Reader's Opinions

Third in this series, Victorian undertaker, Mrs. Harper is wondering why several bodies being delivered to Brookhaven cemetery in Surrey have turned up alive on the train station platform. The story has a dense plot full of twists and turns. In this one, Queen Victoria does not play a part but her husband unknown to him is skirting...
